Split In Liberal Ranks at Nomination Meeting

At a well attended Liberal Convention held in Didsbury on Monday a sensation was caused when Harry Atkins, the sitting member declined to accept a nomination from the Convention, immediately after which at least four-fifths of the delegates left the hall with Mr. Atkins, the Drumheller nominee, Mr. Geo. Webber, remaining in the hall with his own delegates only.

Mr. Atkins made a telling speech in which he emphatically said he was a very strong supporter of the Hon. Chas. Stewart and would swear by him, but could not say the same of all members of his cabinet. Mr. Atkins said he had made a firm stand in the Legislature on the Liquor question and as a result of that the Prov. Treasurer was using two Moderationists at Drumheller to undermine him.

In replying to Mr. Gough's criticism he stated that the Premier and the Provincial Treasurer had come to him at Cross's resignation and had for obvious reasons volunteered the information that Drumheller would be taken out of the Didsbury Constituency before the next election.

In conclusion Mr. Atkins stated that he could not stand for nomination as this would necessitate his working against his own people, the farmers, who had elected him before.

Council Sets Tax Rate

The Didsbury Town Council held their regular meeting on Monday night and the most important business that was taken up was the striking of the tax rate for 1921. They discussed the matter for a long time and finally decided that a rate of 125 mills would have to be levied this year, as follows: General 26 mills; Debenture 12 mills; School 55 mills; Sup. Rev. Tax 2 mills. The business tax was 10 cents. The rural school rate is 8 mills and debenture rate on lands withdrawn from town 9 mills.

Mr. Mielness, Supt. of power plant, reported that the day service was paying for itself, a large number of people now using the service.

SYNOPSIS OF ACTS

Readers will find a full synopsis of the different Acts and amendments passed by the last session of the Alberta government in a supplement inserted in this issue of the Pioneer.

These contain a lot of useful information and should be read by every person so that they can become familiar with new laws passed by the Alberta government. A great many of them are of special interest to the farmer.

Oliver Grace Chamberlain, pupil of Mrs. Jader R. Stevens, passed successfully the Primary Division examinations of the Royal College of music in piano forte.

Mr. Hutton took his departure last Friday. He is going to spend a couple of weeks at his home in Pincher Creek before reporting for duty in Carstairs.

BORN:—At the home of Mrs. Nelson on July 1st 1921, to Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Munson, a daughter, Ruby May.

The Way to Save

It is the systematic regularity with which you make small deposits, rather than the occasional banking of a considerable amount, that steadily builds up a substantial financial backing.

Get the habit of definitely depositing. Three dollars saved every week, with interest at 3% compounded semi-annually, in five years will amount to $841.02.

HILLYARD-CUMMINGS

A very interesting ceremony took place on Wednesday evening, June 29th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cummings, 9819 88th avenue, when their eldest daughter, Clara Maude, was united in marriage to William John Hillyard, of Didsbury, Alberta. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Irwin.

The bride entered the living room on the arm of her father to the strains of Schubert's Wedding March played by Miss Esther Cummings, sister of the bride, and was met by the groom under a bow of roses. The bride was attended only by Margaret Dickson, niece of the bride, who made a charming little one, leaving carrying a basket of carnations and sweet peas.

The bride was exceedingly sweet and pretty in an embroidered champagne crepe de chine dress over pale green tulle. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The couple were the recipients of many beautiful presents, among which was a piano from the bride's parents.

After a buffet luncheon, the happy couple left on the midnight train for Banff and Lake Louise, the bride travelling in a model suit of fawn gabardine with an embroidered crepe de chine blouse and hat to match. The couple will return to Didsbury in a couple of weeks where they will make their home.

Mr. McKelburgh, the eye specialist who has been on a trip to the States and eastern Canada, has now returned and will make a business trip here on July 19th. Call at the Rosebud Hotel.

The Didsbury baseball team again met defeat on Wednesday afternoon. The boys put up a fair game considering they had three new players on, Harold Clements, catcher, having hurt his hand while practicing and two other regular players being away. The score was 9-8, favor of Carstairs. Better luck next time Didsbury.

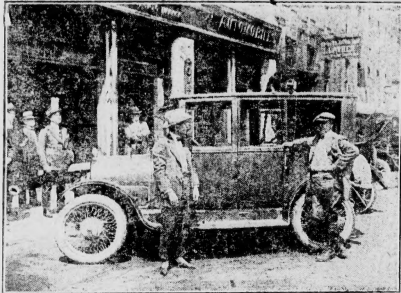

Mrs. R. Simpson is putting on a gramophone guessing competition beginning this week. The Star gramophone is a beautiful instrument, cabinet style, and is valued at about $250. Anyone wishing to take part in this contest will please call on Mrs. Simpson. The gramophone with rules of competition are on exhibit in Mrs. Simpson's window.

A Justifiable Postponement

The Directors of the Western Canada Colonization Association are to be commended for their action in postponing the actual work of bringing in settlers until they secure from the prairie provinces a reasonably firm price list of unoccupied lands available for sale. The Association will not be warranted in expending the large sum of money subscribed by its backers until it secures reasonable co-operation from the three Governments. It would be nothing short of a disaster if lack of action by the Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta Legislatures should prevent the use of this great fund for the general colonizing of the Canadian West.

We look to see the forthcoming conference of prairie province Premiers agree upon some workable basis of action that will facilitate the operations of the Western Canada Colonization Association, as of other immigration agencies. The sooner the twenty million acres of idle land near the railways, now held out of production by more than eighty thousand individual speculators, is brought under the plow, the sooner will good times return, the burden of taxation be lightened and the National Railways achieve a self-sustaining basis.

Remarkable Trip In Overland Car

Overland tours of 75,000 miles are not common among Canadian automobile owners but one was completed this month that took its territory from coast to coast, north as far as Edmonton and south to Lower California.

Mr. J. T. Peers, who was in business in Toronto for many years, undertook the trip chiefly for his health's sake and was accompanied by Mr. Roy M. Jones. After preliminary tours through Muskoka, Montreal and the Adirondacks to the Atlantic, they commenced their long trip by way of Chicago and St. Louis and then North again to Winnipeg. Crossing the Rockies through the Crossed Pass, they visited Vancouver and proceeded to Los Angeles.

Sleeping in the car every night, proved a wonderful tonic, and they thoroughly enjoyed the trip, which was not marred by a single accident. They were always able to obtain gasoline and neither mountains nor deserts proved an obstacle to their "90" Sedan. After several months in California, every district being visited, Mr. Peers and Mr. Jones returned by the New Mexico and Colorado route, averaging about 125 miles a day.

They brought back two monkeys, one an Australian Java, the other a Philippine Ringtail, which were photographed on top of the car when driven up to the Toronto branch of the Willys Overland Company. The monkeys, Mr. Peers states are becoming accustomed to their new home very quickly.

Wind On the Stomach Quickly Relieved

It is a good thing to know just what to do when gas belching starts. One sufferer relates the following experience: "A few months ago I ate some green vegetables and some fruits that was not quite ripe. It brought on indigestion, hiccoughs, nausea and cramps. I believed I will never again be without this valuable remedy. Nerville is a household necessity. Large 25c bottles sold everywhere."

A Waste.

"Charles is the strongest man I ever knew. He smoked his pipe to the last half inch, chewed the stumps and brushed his teeth with the ashes. Even then he wasn't satisfied and stopped smoking."

"Why?"

"He couldn't think of any way to utilize the smoke."

Get Together Results

Benefit Derived From the Accredited Herd Plan for Control of Tuberculosis in Cattle.

A few years ago the United States breeders of pure-bred cattle, recognizing the necessity of more effective measures for the control of tuberculosis, arranged a conference with officials of the Bureau of Animal Industry at Washington, the result of which was the adoption of what is known as the Accredited Herd Plan, meaning that the herd had been thoroughly tested and found entirely free from any symptoms of tuberculosis. The plan proved so successful (over a thousand herds being accredited in a brief period) that a decision was arrived at to adopt the system in Canada. Regulations were promulgated which came into force in September, 1919, and have proved gratifyingly successful, a number of herds having been accredited while many others are under test. There is now an agreement between Canada and the United States that cattle from accredited herds may enter either way, without detention or test.

Carrying bank accommodation for the first time into the northern oil district, the Union Bank of Canada will open a branch at Fort Smith, in latitude sixty degrees north. It is not to be expected that the Fort Smith Branch of the Union Bank can become a profitable venture, particularly in its initial stages, but it is characteristic of Canadian banking that the banker should accompany the movement of civilization and development in any movement tending towards national progress.

THIN, WATERY BLOOD MEANS ILL HEALTH

Rich, Red Blood Brings Bright Eyes and Rosy Cheeks.

The girl who returns home from school or from work thoroughly tired out will be fortunate if she escapes a physical breakdown, because this getting tired so easily is probably the first warning symptom of a thinning blood that must not be disregarded if her health is to be preserved.

When the blood becomes thin and impure the patient becomes pale. She not only tires out easily but often suffers from headaches, palpitation of the heart, dizzy spells and a loss of appetite.

In this condition Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be found to have a beneficial action on the blood. Miss Delina Latrevere, St. Ambrose, Man., has proved this in her own case, and advises others to use these pills. She says: "Before I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills my blood was completely wrecked by my former self. My blood was poor and thin. I suffered from headaches and dizziness almost every day. I decided to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial and by the time I had used three boxes I felt much better and I continued taking the pills until I felt as well as I ever did. For what they did in my case I cannot recommend these pills too highly."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Air Harbor For Regina.

The establishment of a municipal air harbor at Regina is now all but an accomplished fact, and of two sites submitted by the city to the Canadian Air Force Association, the association selected one comprising about one hundred acres. All that remains to complete arrangements is the receiving and erection of the Bessoneau hangar, which has been reserved for Regina by the Canadian Air Board.

Will Direct Traffic to Canada.

The drastic immigration restrictions which have recently come into effect in the United States will, it is thought, have a natural sequence in the diversion of the superfluous flow to Canada. Authorities are also of the opinion that the rigid enforcement of the act will result in the transferring of some of the vessels of the New York-trans-Atlantic fleet to the port of Montreal.

Manitoba Farmer Now So Strong He Can Put In Full Time at Work

"I was beginning to think I never would be myself again but Tanlac has put me back in as good health as I ever enjoyed in my life," said John Brown, well-known farmer of Saint Clair, Manitoba.

"I had a bad stomach and it had been troubling me for the past two and a half years. My appetite was fairly good; that is, I could eat but it looked like everything turned against me and brought on indigestion. Gas formed and would blot me up something awful. I slept poorly, lost weight and got so weak I couldn't half do my work on the farm."

"Well, I'm mighty glad Tanlac came my way. I saw before I finished my first bottle that it was doing me good and now I feel as strong and healthy as I used to be years ago. My stomach never gives me any more trouble and I eat three good rousing meals a day like a hard working man ought to."

"I sleep fine, have picked up considerably in weight and can put in full time at work every day now. Tanlac gets all the credit for my good health today. To my way of thinking there is not a medicine that can compare with it."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Progressive Legislation

Alberta Leads in Progressive Legislation for the Women, Children and Farmers.

Government of the people by the people and for the people has established itself on an imperishable foundation in the province of Alberta since the autonomy act of 1905 came into effect.

Alberta came into the realm of self government at a time when the order of things industrial, political and economic was changing rapidly. It was especially fitting that the young province with its wealth of fertile territory and its new well-combed and fast increasing population should set out to write its history in a bold and verile hand. Its people may well boast after a cycle of fifteen years that thus far this has been done.

The Stewart Government today stands behind an imposing array of legislation, created during the last fifteen years, that has well met the needs of all classes of people in the province and in numerous respects has become the model for other progressive provinces of Canada. To the credit of Alberta it can rightfully and fairly claim to have been constantly in the forefront of advanced law-making, and this without allowing itself to be drawn too far into the quicksand of "faddism" and "extremist" fallacies which invariably attach themselves to every movement for progress.

Many Classes Benefited

Out of the mass of legislation which has taken form during the course of the various legislatures, many acts are outstanding on the statute books which have been of inestimable benefit to the farmer, industrial workers, and to the people generally in the social and economic sense.

Without unduly heavy taxation, and without the ownership and control of the immensely rich natural resources of the province the Albert government has assisted material development and attended to the needs of the people as a whole, to remarkable degree. Vast areas of fertile lands were made available for settlement by the guarantee of railway lines into regions which otherwise would have been inaccessible to farmers for years.

On the parity with this great policy of railroad development brought into effect some years ago is the encouragement of irrigation work in the south by the provincial guarantee of the irrigation bonds, a step taken during the last year which is hailed on all sides as one of the most important policies ever undertaken by a province. Equally significant in many other portions of the province is the kindred policy of a full guarantee from the legislature of the bonds of drainage projects.

Progressive Highways Policy

Legislation of direct and special benefit to the farmers of the province, complex into a splendid list. Under the high-ways act of 1918 the public roads of the province are divided into two classes after consultation with the municipal authorities affected; those being main and district highways, the government contributing 75 per cent of the former and the local district 25 per cent while the proportion is reversed in the case of district highways, the control being vested in the heavier contributor in each instance.

During a period of unfavorable seasons in certain portions of the province the provincial government provided a generous measure of assistance, the advances direct for seed, grain, feed and relief in local improvement district totalling $1,200,000 during the year 1918, '19, and '20, while the government has stood behind the municipal activities in this connection to the extent of $3,000,000.

The co-operative credit act of 1917 enables fifteen or more farmers to organize into a mutual credit society, the province through legislation enacted at the last session standing behind these associations with a full guarantee of the borrowings. These societies are thus enabled to secure short term loans at the banks at the lowest possible rate of interest from the banks, the government assisting in every possible way with the organization and the financing.

Municipal Hail Insurance

The municipal hail insurance acts of 1915 and 1918 constitute a system of mutual insurance against hail damage which has been working admirably under the guarantee of the government. Its working provisions and outstanding success in practical operations all over the province are factors sufficiently well known to require no explanation.

In the agricultural schools system the government policy since its inauguration in 1913 has been to encourage throughout Canada and outside, flourishing schools being established at Vermilion, Olds, Youngstown, Claresholm, Gleichen and Cardston with several hundred farm boys and girls in attendance each term. At the university a college of agriculture provides channels of study for the graduates of these schools.

The live stock encouragement act of 1917, commonly known as the "Cow Bill" has also worked wonders in enabling settlers, mainly in newer districts to secure cattle under government loans. Its popularity was wide spread from the start. In the matter of grain marketing relief the government in 1917 secured legislation granting a loan of $1,133,000 to the Alberta Farmers Co-operative Elevator Company, this being advanced at an interest rate of 5 per cent.

Dairy Industry Promoted

Under government legislation the dairying industry of Alberta has reached a stage of production that is now the envy of other provinces. In every way possible the industry has been assisted by the government, and systematic efforts are being made to better the market for Alberta cows.

The farm machinery act of 1913 applies to every machine and implement bought by a farmer for use on a farm, and protects him against terms in any contract which in the opinion of a judge are unreasonable. It requires that all such equipment be in satisfactory working order; that the seller be responsible for the representation of his agents, and that "Extras" and repairs be kept for a period of one year. Defacing serial numbers on machinery is also prohibited, this to guard against theft of such parts from farmers.

The water users' district act of 1920 provides for the formation by a popular vote of an irrigation district. The private ditches act empowers an owner of land requiring a ditch to have one constructed the cost to not exceed $5,000.

Control of Livestock

The reclamation act of 1917 is along the lines of the private ditches act, having application however to the drainage of small areas such as lakes and swamps. It is worthy of note that the Dominion government claims ownership of all water areas in the province therefore any drainage of extent touches upon federal rights.

The domestic animals act of 1920 and 1921 regulates the standard of legal fencing; the control of nuisances; the control of the running at large of animals and the methods of impounding in addition to preventing the round-up of live-stock upon public grazing lands without the consent of the Minister of Agriculture. The station enactment act of 1917 constitutes a board of supervisors and has required the registration of stallions and eliminated the menace of the poor grades and "scrubs".

Legislation Respecting Labor

In the legislation directly affecting labor the Alberta government has also led the way along practical and careful lines. For a new province with stages of development this labor legislation has been sanely drafted and wisely administered.

The factories act of 1917 applies to all offices and industries excepting chemicals and drug mills, regulating the construction and alteration of factories in addition to enforcing strict sanitary conditions for the workers. Employment of women and children and the hours of labor are regulated, a minimum wage board consisting of two representatives of employees or two employers, and a chairman named by the government, fixing the scale of wages in effect according to occupation and localities. Rigid government inspection is provided for.

The workmen's compensation act is another important measure creating a board with powers of a supreme court to adjudicate on all questions relating to compensation for injuries received in industrial work. The board by means of an annual levy through the employers maintains a fund from which compensation is paid, the basis of such payments now being the previous wages earned by the person upon whom the compensation is claimed. Where death results, burial expenses up to $100 are provided, with an allowance of $35 per month for widow or invalid husband, and $7.50 per month for each child under 16 years, the total not exceeding $65. Where permanent disability results weekly payment through life amounting to 55 per cent of his average earning during the previous twelve months shall be allowed. No compensation for less than $10 a week and industrial diseases whether causing death or illness are treated as accidents.

Helping Coal Industry

The mines act regulates the employment of young persons in mines; enables workmen to appoint their own officers, superintendent hoists and weigh their own output; forces the existence of two outlets for every working place for inflammable gases, all through official mine inspection. From the other end the government during the last two years has made strong and systematic effort to open wider markets for Alberta coal.

Another advanced step was the formation in 1919 of government employment bureaus where employers and employees are given service without charge, these bureaus being maintained by the government in the main centers of the province.

Under the workmen's compensation board the electrical protection act of 1919 is operated in the enactment and repeal of regulations for the protection of electrical workmen. The building trades protection act provides every possible legislative protection for workmen in the construction of buildings. The threshers' employees lien act, the woodmen's lien act, and the lien on goods and chattels act, are measures which give the workmen a lien on articles or things upon which they have bestowed their labor, to the extent of their full remuneration for such services.

The co-operative associations act enables a number of workmen to cheaply procure incorporation for the purpose of carrying out or fulfilling any contract jointly undertaken by them or establishing a co-operative store or business. Municipalities are given full power to regulate the hours of opening and closing shops.

Social Laws and Women's Rights

No better tribute could be paid to the government of the province.

Settlement Reached In British Coal Miners' Strike

Hoped That New Relations Will Now Be Insanaged Between Capital and Labor.

London.—The prolonged stoppage in the coal industry ends by a settlement reached when the government agreed to renew its offer of a subsidy of £10,000,000 to avert the hardships of the next three months, because of necessary wage reductions, thereby conceding the one condition required by the miners in the settlement reached between the miners and the mine-owners.

By the terms of the new arrangement, a wage basis will come into effect for the next eighteen months, whereby the miners receive 20 per cent. above the pre-war scale of wages, with an additional share of profits on an agreed percentage basis which will be regulated by the creation of a national board coal district boards.

The settlement is only a slight modification of the terms the miners rejected by their last ballot, and covers the period up to September 30, 1922, but either side must give three months' notice of a desire to terminate the agreement.

Announcing the settlement in the House of Commons, Mr. Lloyd George justified the granting of the subsidy on the ground that the coal exporting districts were so badly hit by the collapse of the export trade that, if economic conditions had full play, there would be insupportable reductions in wages.

The settlement, he said, was a great and promising experiment; no such principles had ever before been applied in such a vast scale in any industry. He was hopeful that it would inaugurate new relations between capital and labor, not only in coal but in other industries, and he believed that if it was sincerely carried out with goodwill it would remedy the nation for all the damage suffered through the dispute.

Germany to Return Railway Materials
Washington.—Germany has fulfilled her obligation to replace railway material taken by her armed forces from foreign countries during the war, according to advice received here in official circles. The Inter-Allied Railway Commission demanded that Germany deliver five thousand railway cars to France and Belgium, of which the former country is to receive 1,500 and the latter 3,500.

For Development of Canada

Col. W. Grant Morden, Deputy Chairman of the London Advisory Committee of Canada Steamship Lines, who, in a recent address, urged Canadian business men to be more active in pushing Canada's trade interests.

Memories May Not Move

Little Prospect of Exodus From Manitoba This Year.

Winnipeg.—A local government official declared here upon his return from the Manitoba Memorial settlement that there is little prospect of a movement of Memnones to Mexico or any other country from the province. He stated that less than 100,000 acres of the 1,000,000 held by Memnones in Southwestern Manitoba is held for sale, and up to the present time none of this has been sold nor prospective buyers secured.

Victory for Farmer Candidate

Medicine Hat Bye-Election Gives Gardiner Sweeping Majority Over Government Candidate.

Medicine Hat.—The United Farmers of Alberta forces scored a sweeping political victory in the Federal bye-election here. Robert J. Gardiner, the Government candidate, by a huge majority, which will probably reach the 8,000 mark when all the outlying polls are heard from. Spencer received majorities in only three or four polls of the 148.

It had been generally concluded that the farmers would poll a large vote in the country districts, but it was thought that the city of Medicine Hat would return a large majority for Spencer and that he would do more than break even in the smaller towns.

Develop Frozen Fish Trade

Urges Campaign to Sell Canadian Fish in Great Britain.

Ottawa.—An abstract to the development of the trade in Canadian frozen fish on the British market is that during the open season for salmon in Great Britain, Canadian frozen salmon is sold as English and Scottish, but in the closed season, from September to February, the demand languishes, as salmon is supposed to be a summer fish.

This information is contained in a communication from J. Forsyth Smith, Canadian trade commissioner at Liverpool, to the weekly bulletin of the Department of Trade and Commerce. Mr. Smith advises an advertising campaign to sell Canadian frozen fish in the British Isles. He states that fish weighing from 7 to 11 pounds find the best sale.

Breaks Neck But Still Lives.

Chatham, Ont.—Some days ago John Jones fell off a motor truck and injured his neck. An X-ray examination revealed one of the vertebrae of the neck broken, but the nerve was untouched. Jones was immediately "stomped" in a piece of plank, and the attending physicians are now confident he will make a complete recovery.

My First Dog Driving

By O-G-E-MAS-ES (Little Clerk).

(Copyrighted)

I received orders in January of the year 1874 to start west with the Winter Packet of the Hudson's Bay Company and had purchased a nice team of young dogs with light carriages from a clerk who came in from Swan River. The packet man was a famous traveler and known far and wide as one of the best long distance runners in the northwest. Poor Johnny Brade, like so many natives, he did not stand civilization and went to his long home a year or so ago.

I had been a year in the Fort being safe, sheep and hauled the conference, and had made application on several occasions to be sent inland (as all the area outside the Red River settlement was called in those days), but the matter dragged, and at last, on threatening to resign, I had my way. So the long-looked-for time had come at last, and I was really off for the unknown interior next day. I slept mightily little that night, having waking dreams of great prairie swales covered with buffaloes, rich mountains and huge forests, which takes as big as inland seas, and above all, thousands of really wild Indians.

It seemed too good to be true. The morning came at last and what with delays in the office, closing up important dispatches, it was after an early lunch before we left. I told hurried good-byes to all my friends, and received a heavy hand clasp from Chief Factor John H. McFadden. He was at that time the untrodden king of Fort Garry and was one of the best of all the Indian boys. His last words to me were: "If you don't like it in the north there is always a place for you here."

Johnny called "March!" and away we went. His dogs were a mixture of sick and very strong. They were called Buffalo, Frog, Ram and Whiskey. They were all from the Plains, were used to travel, and were as big as large timber wolves, with split ears and were grey and white in color. Each of my young dogs and myself treated them with the utmost respect at a distance, and they evidently had a contempt for us as green horns. He was loaded entirely with wool matter and, of course, dog food and provisions on top of this. His only holding was a single heavy box, were carefully made of the thinnest and lightest of wood and he H. B. Co. white blanket. The packet was to take them to Fort Carlton on the North Branch of the Saskatchewan river. This was a distance of between five and six hundred miles, with many a long stretch of plain and but little wood here and there. Other packet carriers met him at Carlton, and on went the great Northern Packet, only reaching some of the furthest posts on last day. The fastest rate was always taken of the previous mail matter.

My young train followed close behind his sleigh, and I noted Johnny studying my dog's gait from time to time. The first step made was to Popular Point near H. B. Post, and Mr. Chisholm was hospitable as usual; in fact, too much so, as it was getting dark before we pulled out for Fortage. Just as we were hitching up, Johnny, who by the way started badly, said "B-b-b, you're Herod (my foreword) back too hard in front, so I will put him in the middle of my team and give you Bulb-bully Brandy ahead," well, I was green and knew no better than to be very quick, I made the exchange, drove himself on his sled and was off like a flash. When I called, "March!" the dog sat down on the road and eyed me with a wicked look. I took a step towards him and shook my whip. He replied was to advance in my direction growling savagely, so I retraced. Well, I was in a quandary. Pride forbade me going in and asking for Chisholm's assistance. Suddenly I noted the fear, and taking a good sized roll off it, I crept up to the rear of the train, balanced the roll on end and, finally, then sighting between all of my dog's ears, let it fall. My aim was true, and it howled him over. With dreadful howls he sprang to his feet and snarled after my companion at a gallop. I just managing to throw myself in the carriage, catching up with Johnny at last, I noted he was shaking with excitement, and on stopping for a smoke, he said: "Bulb-bully-boy, what did you do to Bulb-bully Brandy?" We had a great laugh over it, but in future I kept my own dogs.

We Meet at Bourgeois.

We reached Bourgeois about nine that night, and Mr. Jos. Hargrave made us very welcome as it was usual amongst Hudson's Bay men. Next day we camped at a White Mud River, where was one of the famous White, postmaster, and here we met my new chief, Factor Archie McDonald, king of the Swan River district. He was by no means prejudiced in favor of Canadians as by far the majority of the officers and men of the H. B. Co. at that time were Scotch, and very clamorous at that Johnny Brade started early next morning for his long trip across the plains and I was accompanied Mr. McDonald and Harry on his long journey. Up to this time I had as easy time with my light carriage, but conditions were changed and my dogs were loaded to capacity, and so was my horse. From Bourgeois a young French half-breed, who was kindly, friendly, took a liking to me, coming under my arm, and I once whispered me. On reaching, meaning little clerk. He had never heard the honorific, "Well, we will see what kind of stuff this little Clerk is made of and he can hand the party tomorrow."

It was a good thing for me the day was a short one, only some thirty miles as I was running the whole distance. If you want to know what it was like just watch a dog trotting beside a rig and you follow him and keep that on your mind. It was a long for me the track was hard and some shoes not needed. Oh, boy, but I was tired that night and my legs cramped with the unusual exertion, and it seemed that just about the time I fell asleep the roll was made to set up again. This was my first introduction to an admirable habit customary with the big men of the company at that period. The guide called all hands between three and four in the morning, dogs were hitched and away we went, the bourgeois, on going to sleep in his car, while as poor bourgeois trotted along. There was no sign of daylight, it was very cold, and our comrades were fairly grinding for something to eat. In my own case I was stiff and cold, and the unusual exertions of the day previous. I also had a sheep head in one hand. Would daylight never come. Talk about an appetite, mine was like a raging wolf. Well, after a long three hours, the guide called a halt, a huge fire was made and we runners breakfasted mightily on ham and raw pemmican, with oranges of black tea. I told James-Houme on the quiet that my head was shaking me, and he at once pulled off my moccasins and socks. There was a crack in the hard skin of the heel over an inch long, and this would naturally open every step to pain. "Oh, boy," he exclaimed, "I will soon fix that." Taking off his fire-ap, in the corner of which was a square of hide (really a three-cornered glove) I threaded with deer skin, and holding my foot tight, he put in three or four stitches. He then covered it with spruce gum, placed some cotton on this, and it bothered me no more. I remembered this recipe and used it afterwards on many occasions.

What's a Guarantee?

Our idea of a guarantee is that the manufacturer who gives one—which has no tags and loopholes—believes in his product.

So much so that he stands ready to make good any loss suffered by the purchaser through defective material or workmanship.

It's mainly because of the guarantee that goes with them that we are selling and recommending Ames Holden "Auto-Shoes."

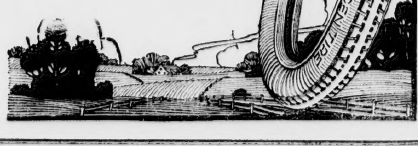

Of course, we know they give the cheapest mileage too—that they are dependable tires for any kind of car, anywhere. But it's the guarantee that we talk about most. It's the straight and clear-cut, without time or mileage limits. It shifts our responsibility on to the manufacturer and he lives up to every letter of it. ## PROVINCE OF ALBERTA

Co-operative Credit Societies

The Provincial Government has provided legislation designed to encourage the co-operation of farmers by adequate credit, longer term loans, lower interest rates, cash prices for purchases, saving of time and labor, and an improved community spirit.

Increased Farm Credit depends upon:—

- (1) Greater reliability of loans.
- (2) Certainty of repayment.
- (3) Adequate power of security.

The Alberta Co-operative Credit Act in its amended form, grants exceptional powers in the matter of taking necessary security, and thus repayment can be safely provided for.

Organization of a Society requires:—

1. Fifteen signatures to petition to incorporate.

province in respect to the laws effecting women and children than that offered by Mrs. H. M. Edwards, of Macleod, president of the provincial council of women who, in her excellent booklet on "The legal status of Women of Alberta," remarks in the preface to the first and second editions that "the women of Alberta are more favored in regard to legal status than are those of any other province in Canada". The government's appreciation of the work of the women in standing shoulder to shoulder with their men folk in the development of their country has been shown by giving them the premier place in the Dominion. Alberta was the first province in Canada to call women to legislative assembly, the first to ask a woman to accept a judge's seat in the courts of justice, and the first to hand the aldermanic honors. Alberta was the first province to grant equal provincial and municipal suffrage regardless of sex, distinction; the first to grant absolute parental rights, not only as co-guardian but giving the mother in 1920 every right to her child that had been exclusively held by the father; even to sharing with the father his rights in the intestate estate of the son or daughter.

The equal suffrage act giving women equal rights with men in the provincial and municipal voting was also enacted in 1916.

Great Strides in Health Laws

In the matter of health legislation the government took giant strides in 1919 headed by the establishment of a department of public health, the efficiency of which was splendidly put to the test by the influenza epidemic. Simultaneously in the 1919 session came the municipal health acts enabling any territory to organize itself by a vote of the residents into a hospital district, with full power thereafter to borrow money for the erection of a hospital and to locally control and operate the institution subject to government supervision. With this act should be linked the public health nurses act of 1919, open for membership to any graduate nurse in Alberta who pledges herself to respond at all times to the call of the Minister of Health in assisting to cope with an epidemic, as well as carrying on health work in rural districts.

The splendid institution at Ponoka stands as a testimony that the government has done to take care of the insane, while under the mental defectives act of 1919 this other class of unfortunates are also being well looked after by the state. Grouped also under the heading is the act appointing an administrator of lunatic estates, the government thus protecting and handling the property of an insane person. The official guardian act in some respects acts in a similar capacity being the custodian of insane persons, convicts and diseased persons. In addition he acts as administrator of estates on order and is the official guardian of infants where no guardian is provided.

The life insurance beneficiary act of 1916 and the insurance act of 1915 are two measures providing for careful supervision by the government of all insurance work in the province. The sales of shares act with the public utilities commission constitutes the "Blue Sky" laws of Alberta with the express mission of preventing wild cat schemes from being floated and defrauding the public.

Women's Institutes Work.

Under the Women's Institutes act of 1916 the government assist in the organization and in the carrying out of the work of the women's institutes—the objects of which are well known throughout the Dominion and the success of which is unquestioned.

The children's protection act is an important measure launched in 1909 whereby a government superintendent takes care of neglected and dependent children, giving juveniles thus neglected the benefits of proper training and support by means of a fine institution maintained by the government. Juvenile courts were established in the province in 1913. Through the equal parental rights law of 1920 the mother is given equal rights with the father in the guardianship of both the persons and estate of infants. Prior to this the father was the guardian.

In the lower act of 1917 the home is reserved to the wife not only during the lifetime of the husband but after his death and during her lifetime. This with the effect of the exemption from seizure ordinance of 1915 which protects the homestead from seizure under execution give adequate protection to every home. Under the tenancy by court-ordered provisions the wife exercises full control of her own real estate, the husband formerly being entitled by common law to rents and profits of all her real estate during marriage and in certain events, after death. These measures together with the ordinance respecting personal property of married women gives a wife control over all her own property.

The steam and gasoline engines represent the most powerful and steady source of power that we have today. The steam or gasoline is concentrated in a confined space which gives it this power. Do you ever consider this in regard to advertising?

A Friend To the Aged!

When men and women get past middle life, their energy and activity, in many instances, begin to decline, and their general vitality is on the wane.

The heart action becomes weak and uncertain and the nerves more or less unsteady.

Little sicknesses and ailments seem harder to shake off than formerly, and here and there evidences of a breakdown begin to appear.

Those who wish to maintain their health and vigor and retain their energy instinctively should use Miller's Heart and Nerve Pills.

They make the heart beat strong and regular, brace up and invigorate the nervous system, improve the memory, and impart a sense of buoyancy to the entire system.

Mrs. James Perry, Retlaw, Alta., writes: "Some months ago I was not feeling well, my heart bothered me quite a lot, and my whole system seemed out of order. I sent and got two boxes of your pills. I took them a few days and my, what a change there was in me, and when I had taken the two boxes I felt so much better I quit them. Now I take them at intervals, and am fine although 72 years of age."

Many Settlers Arriving

Seventy-Five Families Take Up Land in the Lloydminster District This Season.

The flow of newcomers which the spring ushered in for the Lloydminster district is continuing unabated, and to date some seventy-five families have moved and acquired land. Two or three times this number is expected before the end of the farming season. In addition to the marketing of five thousand head of cattle, two thousand hogs, and eight hundred sheep, more than two million bushels of grain were shipped from this district last year. An increase of fifty per cent in the wheat yield from the increased acreage is expected this year.

A Negligee Of Coral Handkerchief Linen

By Marie Belmont.

Cool and inviting is this dainty negligee for summer days. It is fashioned from coral handkerchief linen, although you might find it in any other shade you desire. If you preferred you might even use a pastel shade of satin or combine two shades of chiffon. It is cut all in one piece and an oblong piece is covered so that the negligee may be slipped over the head. This is outlined with coral embroidery. The sides are similarly adorned. They are fastened together under the embroidery to a point just beyond the waistline. About the shoulder the linen falls in pleasing lines. The satin sash and net finish add to the beauty of this model.

Where World Gets Lumber

Canadian Vessel Clears Vancouver With Over Five Million Feet of Timber and Lumber for Japan.

The biggest cargo of lumber that ever sailed from the port of Vancouver left recently on the Canadian Government steamer, Canadian Highlander. She had aboard 5,100,000 feet of ties and lumber for Kobe, Yaku Bar and Nanking, Japan. There have been many three and four million foot cargoes sent from Vancouver in the past few years, and the Canadian Robert Dollar Company's big steamer, Robert Dollar, sailed recently from Puget Sound with 6,000,000 feet, but only 3,000,000 of this was loaded at Vancouver. One of the Coghlan steamers, operated by that company, took 4,800,000 feet last year, and that was the record until the Canadian Highlander's cargo.

meeting now in progress. His Bible readings at 10:30 have been very instructive to the goodly number who attend every morning. His evening messages are inspiring, logical and convincing. He will continue to preach every night this week as well as next Sunday afternoon and evening. Do not miss this rare treat.

Progressive Legislation

The intestate succession act of 1920 distributes the property of those dying without leaving wills in a manner most equitable to the surviving relatives without distinction as to sex or to the question of legitimacy. The property of a child leaving no husband, wife or issue, is divided in equal parts to the father and mother if living. Previously the law gave all to the father, but in the event of the mother only being alive she shared equally with brothers and sisters of the deceased. Along similar lines is the act relating to children born out of wedlock, the law being framed to give greater help to the woman. The father is made liable for the maintenance of the child.

A form of widow's pension is provided for in the mothers' allowances act whereby the government pays to every widowed mother requiring assistance a sum sufficient to enable her to raise and educate her family, one-half the cost being borne by the government and the other half by the municipality in which she resides.

Women's Rights Protected

The married women's relief act, passed in 1910 and never since amended in principle, is an important measure protecting the interest of the widow in her husband's estate despite any provision of a will to the contrary. Under the law a woman is entitled to the whole of her deceased husband's property if there be no children. She shares equally with one child and if there be more than one she is entitled to one-third, the remaining two-thirds being divided amongst the children. In the event of the husband leaving a wife depriving the widow of her rights under the law she may obtain her legal share by making application to the courts of the province.

The new jury act of last session enables women to serve as jurors, although it is not made compulsory. The act of 1918 for the prevention of venereal diseases was another practical working out of a difficult problem.

The small debts act of 1918 gave justices of the peace jurisdiction in the matter of minor debts where the Crown was not one of the parties involved, or the title to land brought into question. Among other important acts effecting the general public are those authorizing the establishment of public libraries, the enforcement of safety and health facilities in theatres, and the requirement of proper exits from public buildings.
